Managing Director Investments (m/f/d)

Full-time · Hybrid · Start by arrangement

Are you an experienced investor or founder in the life sciences with a passion for early-stage biopharma? AGT46 invites you to work with us to turn world-class academic research into successful companies and to actively shape the future of the biotech ecosystem.

ABOUT AGT46

AGT46 takes selected early-stage biotech teams to their first institutional funding round.

AGT46 is a new incubator and investment platform for early-stage biopharma, ignited by ATHOS and the M1 Munich Medicine Alliance. We think globally and operate without geographic boundaries. Our goals:

- Drive academic venture projects and early spin-offs forward with focus.
- Support founding teams actively and entrepreneurially from day one.
- Invest early and build bridges to further investors.
- Further strengthen and connect the biotech ecosystem.

THE OPPORTUNITY

As Managing Director at AGT46, you have the opportunity to form and shape this new initiative from the very beginning. ATHOS will act as anchor investor, and the M1 Munich Medicine Alliance provides fast access to the ecosystem. The first task of the leadership team is to finalize the strategic direction and concept and to win over additional funders. You will then take leading responsibility for the investment activities – from identifying and evaluating new opportunities to structuring financing rounds and actively supporting our portfolio companies.

WHAT YOU'LL DO

- Positioning & strategy: Finalizing the investment and incubation strategy.
- Fundraising: With ATHOS as anchor investor, we are targeting a fund volume of approx. €150m.
- Deal sourcing & due diligence: Identifying, assessing (scientifically and commercially) and structuring investments – on our own or in a syndicate with co-investors.
- Portfolio management: Actively supporting portfolio companies (e.g. as a board member), supporting follow-on financings and strategic exit processes.
- Network: Building partnerships with international co-investors, pharma companies and academic institutions to further strengthen the ecosystem.

WHAT YOU BRING

- Scientific background: In-depth expertise in life sciences, medicine or related fields (e.g. through a PhD or many years of industry experience).
- Venture capital track record: Several years of experience as an investor in early-stage biopharma – from deal sourcing and due diligence to board work and exits.
- Fundraising experience: A successful track record in raising capital for startups, venture funds or comparable investment vehicles.
- Network: Strong relationships with academic institutions, pharma companies, experts and relevant investors in the biotech sector.
- Languages: Business-fluent German and English.
- Location & travel: Regular presence at our Munich location and flexibility to travel to conferences, institutes and partners.

WHAT WE OFFER

- Shaping from day one: You shape the investment strategy and the fund from day one, as part of the leadership team.
- Direct access: to science, clinics, pharma and co-investors, through the M1 Munich Medicine Alliance and our network.
- Short paths: a small team that decides quickly.
